MINERS VOTE TO GO TO WORK

CORONER CHARGES SALEM SURGEON WITH CARELESSNESS

WOMAN'S DEATH IS BLAMED ON ETHER BLAST IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Joseph Potts Injured
While On Operating
Table.

DIED 52 HOURS LATER

Verdict In Case Is Rendered
by Coroner J. W. Vanfossen.

That carelessness on the part of Dr. H. K. Yagel, Salem surgeon, was responsible for the death of Mrs. Joseph Potts of Salem, following an operation at the Salem City hospital last week, was the charge contained in a verdict handed down by County Coroner J. M. Van Fossen of East Palestine Saturday morning.

Mrs. Potts succumbed Friday, Dec. 5, to injuries sustained in an explosion of ether vapor while on the operating table at the Salem hospital on the preceding Wednesday. Dr. Yagel, who was performing an operation upon Mrs. Potts, was using a thermo-electro cautery. This instrument, according to the findings of Coroner Van Fossen, ignited ether vapor which was being administered as an anesthetic, resulting in an explosion.

The woman died 52 hours after the explosion. Attendants at the hospital gave pneumonia as the cause of the woman's death, it is said. No steps were taken to summon the coroner in the case until the following day, it was stated Saturday.

Coroner Van Fossen, in his verdict, stated that the deceased "came to her death as the result of an explosion of ether vapor from ether which occurred while the patient was on the operating table."

The coroner's report also charges that "carelessness on the part of the surgeon, Dr. H. K. Yagel, in using a thermo-electro cautery when ether was being given as an anesthetic" was responsible for the woman's death.

When advised of the coroner's ruling Saturday, Dr. Yagel said that at

OPERATIONS WILL BE RESUMED IN COUNTY COAL MINES MONDAY

Workers in Salineville and West Point Mining Districts Accept Indianapolis Settlement--Unanimous Decision on Question of Returning to Work---Machine Men on Job Saturday.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—"The men will all be back in the mines by Monday," declared John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, today, arriving at the American Federation of Labor headquarters to attend the labor conference.

"We have full faith in the president," said Lewis. "His commission, we expect, will settle all of the difficulties and work out a whole program of adjustment."

Machine men were at work in coal mines in both the Salineville and West Point centers Saturday clearing the way for full resumption of work Monday morning.

Union miners in the Salineville district at a mass meeting held Friday afternoon in the Salineville opera house voted unanimously to return to work Monday. Telegrams advising the miners of the adjustment of the soft coal controversy at Indianapolis last Wednesday were read at the meeting.

Machine workers employed at the Kirk-Dunn coal mine in West Point have agreed to abide by the decision of the Salineville miners and resume work Monday morning. A meeting of the West Point miners will be called immediately upon receipt of the official circular letter from international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America at Indianapolis. This circular had not arrived at West Point at noon Saturday.

Clear Mines For Work

Practically every coal miner in the Salineville district attended the mass meeting Friday at Salineville.

Machine men who operate the cutting machines with which a bulk of the soft coal mined in Columbiana county is "cut" were sent into the mines in both the Salineville and West Point districts Saturday morning. A gang of "slate men" who clear up the mine floors of the falls of slate was also at work in West Point Saturday.

The main body of miners will be working in all Columbiana county mines by Monday. Delay in the actual mining of coal in this county after the adjustment of the strike is due to the fact that all coal that had been cut prior to the shutdown of the mines had been loaded and shipped away immediately after the strike order went into effect.

PREPARE FOR RESUMPTION OF COAL MINING THROUGHOUT OHIO

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—"All Ohio mines will be operating Monday," said John Moore, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers, here today.

President Moore believes that the miners belonging to the locals in the eastern Ohio field who have voted against returning to work, will all resume work, pending final settlement, after explanation is made to them of mines will be operating Monday," said Moore.

It is reported here that 60 per cent of the miners in the Steubenville district, and 400 miners in Tuscarawas county, have voted to continue the strike.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—Saturday half holiday in the mines prevented the production peak today in Ohio mines reaching anywhere near maximum.

However, all reports reaching the offices of the Pittsburgh Vein Operators' association here today were of an encouraging nature.

"The men who have returned to work are working with a will. Our reports show co-ordination of all classes of mine workers in getting out coal," declared D. F. Hurd, secretary of the association, today.

"In several mines where men first reported to work yesterday morning, coal has been cut, hauled, cleaned and dumped and today is being moved on the railroads. This could not have been done unless the mine workers had really meant business because the mines had to be put in shape the first thing."

Secretary Hurd took an optimistic view of the situation. He said that officials of the miners' union are undoubtedly sincere in their efforts to get the men back and that he believes their efforts generally will be crowned with success by Monday.

"Of course," he added, "we are not

REVIEW SEEKS FUND TO AID XMAS DINNER FOR POOR PLAN

Will Assist Salvation Army to Meet Winter Relief Needs.

WILL KEEP POT BOILING

Mail Or Send Your Contributions to Winter Relief Fund Editor.

As a means of aiding the East Liverpool Salvation Army corps finance its annual Christmas basket distribution among the city's needy families and to carry on its winter relief program, the East Liverpool Review Saturday opened a fund for the collection of subscriptions for this worthy cause.

The columns of the Review will seek for the receipt of contributions for the Salvation Army. A list of subscribers to the fund will be published each day and the funds turned over to officers of the Salvation Army corps.

The fund started by The Review will be in connection with the annual solicitation of funds by means of the familiar Salvation Army kettles which will appear on East Liverpool's downtown street corners Monday morning. It had originally planned to establish the kettles Saturday but the inclement weather caused a delay in the plans of the corps officers.

A campaign of the Salvation Army was conducted a few months ago, it was announced by national officers of the organization that no more solicitation for funds would be contemplated. No provision was made in East Liverpool, however, for the annual Christmas baskets or the winter relief activities of the corps and all the funds for carrying on this work must be collected through the Christmas kettles and from contributions by the manufacturers, business men and others.

Between 60 and 75 well stocked baskets containing sufficient food-stuffs for a substantial Christmas dinner will be distributed among the needy families from the Salvation Army canteen Christmas morning. Members of the corps are now conducting an investigation of all cases of destitute circumstances.

Under the winter relief program of The Salvation Army, all families in destitute circumstances are given assistance in the way of food, clothing and fuel. Already the Salvation Army canteen is overwhelmed with appeals for aid from people who are rendered helpless through sickness and other causes. Close investigation of all such cases are made by workers of the corps before any aid is extended so as to eliminate the possibility of undeserved charity.

A committee from the East Liverpool lodge of Elks composed of Past president of Elks composed of Past Exalted Rulers Will R. Scragg, William Robinson and George Bratt, is also aiding in the collection of funds for the Salvation Army. All contributions secured by this committee are to be turned over to the Review fund and the names of the donors published in the daily list of contributors.

Contributions reported Saturday were:

W. E. Wells, $10; Homer J. Taylor, $10; John I. Hodson, $10; Cash $10; Friend, $5. Total $45.

After Slaying East Youngs- town Confectionery Store Proprietor, Thugs Get $40- —Victim's Wife Collapses.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 13.—Peter Latkovich, 36, was shot and instantly killed in his confectionery store at East Youngstown late last night by two negro robbers who escaped.

A posse was hastily organized and in 15 minutes was on the trail of the bandits. Bloodhounds were rushed from Warren and took up the trail of the men but lost the scent in the railroad yards. This leads to the belief that the thugs departed on an east-bound freight train which left just after the shooting.

The robbers got about $40 from the cash register but did not take time to search their victim's pockets which contained $221.

Mrs. Latkovich became hysterical and collapsed after the tragedy. Later she told the officers that she and her husband were about to close the store when the negroes entered and covering her with revolvers, told her to go to a rear room in the store building, threatening her with death if she did not comply. Hardly had she left the room before a shot rang out and returning she saw her husband dead on the floor.

John Matvey, a neighbor, claims he fired a shot at the bandits and believes he hit one of the robbers as he was seen to fall to the street.

TRIAL OF WAR LORD PROPOSED BY PROBERS AT BERLIN, REPORT

Decisive Action Is Postponing
Pending Further Investigation.

WAR GUILTY INQUIRY

Testimony from High German Officials Is Obtained.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The sub-committee of the German national assembly which has been investigating the war guilt of German officials, has proposed the arrest of the ex-kaiser, said a wireless dispatch from Berlin today.

Decisive action has been postponed, however, pending the preparation of information regarding war causes during the interim between the assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne at Sarajevo, and the actual outbreak of the conflict, the wireless advised said.

The sub-committee on war guilt has been holding sessions and taking testimony from high German officials for several weeks.

If the German national assembly committee carries its proposal into effect and actually places the former emperor under arrest, the allies might be forestalled in their efforts to put the erstwhile war lord on trial.

It has been stated at The Hague virtually upon official authority that, while Holland would protest against delivery of the ex-kaiser to the allies, she would be unable to oppose any such demand from Germany.

This attitude is based upon the facts that, while William is taking refuge under the hospitable laws of Holland, he is a German subject and subject to the laws and decrees of the German state.

It was understood that the trial of the ex-kaiser was one of the questions considered by Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau at their conference in London.

MAY ABANDON WORLD LEAGUE

Allies Seriously Considering
Return to Old System of
"Balance of Power."

By FLOYD MACGRIFF.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The first indication that the Allies are seriously considering throwing the league of nations overboard and returning to the old system of a "balance of power" grew out of the final conferences between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau here today.

Information was secured from reliable sources that John W. Davis, the United States ambassador to England, was asked to sound Washington upon its attitude towards the new plan. Mr. Davis, it was also understood, was asked to query the United States government upon the possibility of the senate ratifying the peace treaty if it is stripped of the league of nations' covenant.

DECISIONS ON POTTERY SCALE

Several decisions affecting the pottery trade in plans in this city, East Palestine, Canonsburg, Pa., and Sebring were handed down by the western standing committee at a special meeting this week.

Here is a summary of the cases: Subject—Delivery of clay to Jigger Moor, W. S. George Pottery Co., East Palestine, Ohio.

Decision—The committee decides that this question is covered by the agreement, and respectfully refers the firm to the clause on "Delivery of clay to the jigger floor free of charge" to be found on page 15 of the scale book.

Subject—Derwood bakers, W. S. George Pottery company, Canonsburg, Pa.

Decision—This line of bakers has been made at the East Palestine plant since 1910 and at the Kittanning plant for several years without objection being made to the standing committee of the cable price paid, but owing to an agreement entered into between the foreman at the Canonsburg plant and Mr. Menge, in 1912, whereby certain sizes were to be discontinued, the operatives' side of the committee refused to agree that the prices paid in East Palestine and Kittanning should prevail in the Canonsburg case, therefore the question was returned to the firm and the maker for settlement.

Subject—Placing small sized grille tray in low eight inch sagger, Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co.

Decision—The operatives' side of the committee contended that the firm should place this small sized plate in either a cup sagger or a sagger used for the larger sized grille plates and by filling with small ware for stuffing they would get more ware in the kilns, and on this ground they refused to concede the use of the small sagger for such purpose, and the question was therefore returned to the firm and kilnmen for settlement.

Subject—Use of hook scraper, Canonsburg Pottery Co., Canonsburg, Pa.

Decision—Question returned to firm and jiggermen for settlement.

Subject—Women selectors, Sebring Pottery Co., Sebring, Ohio.

Decision—The evidence submitted, that the women were employed July 10, 1919, while the two men were not discharged until Sept. 30, 1919, proves that the hiring of the women had no bearing on the discharge of the two men. Both sides are referred to pages 6 and 7 of the "Red Printed Supplement No. 1 of the 1917 Agreement."

Puts Skunks' Scent Bags at Door of Mansfield Church.

MANSFIELD, Dec. 13.—The police are looking for the meanest man in Mansfield, a fellow who is accused of cutting the scent bag out of skunks and laying them on the door of St. John's Evangelical church. This has happened three times and the pastor, Rev. G. A. Klenke, charges that the hide buyers of the city are working a skin game to drive Wilbur Gaton of Belleville out of business. Gaton comes to this city every Saturday to buy fur on the street and buys on the corner in front of St. John's church. The pastor charges that the local buyers are placing these scent bags of skunks on the church door in hope that Gaton will get the blame. This morning Rev. MAY USE OLD PUMP STATION

To guard against the possibility of another serious curtailment of city water service in the event of a recurrence of the break in the main feed pipe to the Northside reservoir and pump, the old pump station in Laura avenue, just north of the McKinley school building Friday was placed in readiness for operation in case of an emergency.

The pump station on the Northside was closed simultaneously with the old pump house along the River road when the new filtration plant in the East End began operation. None of the equipment in the Northside plant had been removed and it required but a little work on the part of the water works employees to place the station in readiness for operation.

The station was formerly used in pumping water from the two main reservoirs on Thompson hill to the sub-reservoir on the Northside. In the event water is drained from the Northside reservoir or the standpipe, the pumps at the sub station will be utilized in retaining a flow of water in the Northside mains.

Residents of the Northside were without city water for more than a day this week due to a second break in the main pipe line just above the East End. It is likely that the pipe will be lifted from the ground and placed on the surface of the hill to guard it against destruction by landslides.

HAMMOND, N. J., Dec. 13.—Edward White, father of Charles S. White, who is in jail at Mays Landing, charged with the wilful murder of three-year old "Billy" Dansey, declared today that his son could prove that he was not in the field where the child is supposed to have met his death on October 8.

"My son was suffering from infected hands that had been poisoned by ivy and was not at work in the dahlias field on the day that 'Billy' Dansey met his death," said the senior White.

It is declared that much of the evidence against White and Mrs. Edith Jones, housekeeper of the elder White, had been secured by detectives working at night under the direction of Chief of County Detectives John P. Wilson. These men were brought into Hammond and were unknown to the residents.

SEBRING

Use Wood As Fuel.

Wood as a fuel is gaining prominence in Sebring. Farmers' wagons are seen with wood upon them to fill an emergency place for fuel. Some wood is being used at the potteries. It is a fair substitute for coal, but in the language of one kiln burner "requires eternal firing up." Coke has also been used as a substitute, but is said to be unsatisfactory. There is nothing to equal coal or gas for kiln burning and these are not to be had.

The record of 263 attendance of the Presbyterian Sunday school which was made several weeks ago, was broken Sunday. The number present was 273.

LIFE TERM FOR BERT LABUS

Bert Labus, aged 41 years, East Springfield farmer, was found guilty by a jury in common pleas court at Steubenville Friday afternoon of criminal assault on his 12-year-old daughter, Carrie Labus. The jury was out one-half hour, returning the verdict at 5 o'clock.

Labus will go the Ohio penitentiary for life. There are seven other indictments against him, including three for criminal assault on his 15-year-old daughter, Laura Labus.

The defendant had shown no emotion at any time during the trial but when the verdict was announced he appeared to be dazed and then tears started to flow down his cheeks.

As he was being held from the court room he attempted to reach his wife and daughters who were seated near the jury box but he was restrained by Deputy Sheriff Edward Lucas. Labus has made frequent threats, it is alleged, that he would kill his wife and daughters if he ever got the chance.

When being led into his cell the convicted man turned to the deputy and remarked:

"Well, they sealed my fate."

The defendant took the stand in his own defense this afternoon and denied all accusations made against him by his wife and daughters. His mother, Mrs. Laura Labus, of Canton, Ohio, testified for him, and claimed that the charges were a "frame-up" on the part of the girls and their mother.

Hundreds were turned away from the court room.

Jacob Wagers, aged 38, of Main street, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery before Mayor George B. Imbrie Saturday morning and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to spend sixty days in the county jail. Wagers was taken to Lisbon following the hearing by Patrolman James Kinney, to begin his sentence.

In addition to the charge of assault and battery, filed by a woman who gave her name to the police as Lucy Syzmor, Wagers was held while more serious charges against him are investigated by local and county authorities.

Wagers was arrested Thursday night on a charge filed by the Syzmor woman, who alleges that he wanted a gun at her and then ejected her and three children from their home above a meat market in Main street.

According to authorities here the Syzmor woman had two husbands while she was living in Kentucky and three children to these two men. Wagers' wife is dead, it is claimed.

AT the Theatres

CRITICS THRILLED BY "HEARTS OF WORLD"

Mesdame Sarah Bernhart, thrilled when she saw David Wark Griffith's "Hearts of the World," which is the offering at the Ceramic Saturday.

"The great work of a great artist," she exclaimed ecstatically, and then she added, "It will live forever. Eminent men and women in all sorts of activities have coincided in her judgment. Here are opinions from some other theatrical headliners, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin.

"Life is better after seeing 'Hearts of the World,'" declared Miss Pickford. "It did my soul good. I had some wonderful laughs and I spoiled several at handkerchiefs, too—and I shouted just as loud as any one." I laughed, I sobbed," said Chaplin. "The tears were in my eyes. It's a beautiful story with a magnificent climax. I clapped my hands—I shouted until I was hoarse." Then, as for Douglas, "Great! No painting, no word, nothing in the world has ever spoken like that. I didn't know where I was until everybody was shouting and I was yelling with them.

MARY PICKFORD IN FILM AT DIAMOND

In "Rags," the story of a girl's rise from the lowest strata of life to a position of social importance, through which she finds it possible to marry the man she loves, Mary Pickford, for whom the story was especially written by Edith Barnard Delano, finds a charmingly effective characterization. This original photoplay, starring the world-beloved "Little Mary," will be seen for the first time at the Diamond theatre Saturday.

There is substantial material in "Rags" on which to build one of those great photoplays in which Paramount has always succeeded in presenting this popular star.

Her portrayal of "Rags" becomes much more than the display of a winsome personality, as the story advances to a tense climax as grows in dramatic interest. Miss Pickford transforms herself into an actress of power and effectiveness.

BILLIE RHODES STARS IN "BLUE BONNET"

William Parsons, president of the National Film Corporation of America, spared no expense and in several other ways "went the limit" in the filming of "The Blue Bonnet." Billie Rhodes first production for W. W. Hodgkinson distribution, which comes to the Strand theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"The Blue Bonnet" is a story of the Salvation Army and "over here" Without question it gave charming Billie Rhodes the finest opportunity she has ever had in motion pictures.

"BUNNY" AND LILLIAN GISH IN "HEARTS OF THE WORLD" AT THE CERAMIC TONIGHT.

MISS EBBERT TO QUIT POST

Superintendent of Tuberculosis Hospital Tenders Resignation.

Bringing to a climax an altercation dating back several years, Miss Hilda Ebbert, superintendent of the Springfield sanitarium controlled jointly by Columbiana, Carroll, Mahoning, Stark and Summit counties, has just tendered her resignation to take effect January 1.

Several attempts were made to oust Miss Ebbert from office on the claim that the high death rate at the establishment was due largely to the absence of a physician as head of the hospital.

Action will be taken to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Ebbert's resignation pending the passage of legislation that will permit Summit county to purchase the shares of the other four counties in the institution.

THE BOSS WHO PULLS.

Long, serious articles have been written to prove the folly of attempting to establish lines or sharp distinctions between Capital and Labor in this country, but really such grave dissertations are unnecessary. The observant eye sees proof of this folly every day on the public street. A case in point:

Three men were taking a piano up the steps of a house. The man at the front end was well dressed, spectacled, overcoated. The two at the other end of the box were dirty, over-alled, rough-handed. But just as it came to the final tug, one of the over-alled pair exclaimed to the white shirt at the front, "Git straight around in front of her, George, an' pull!" And George did as he was told.

Now George is a member of the firm that sold the piano. A few years ago he was one of the teamsters that delivered the pianos. Being short of help in his store, he lends a hand himself where the need arises, and his men call him by his first name.

This country is swarming with just such cases. They are the finest argument for free America that we have. They offer the greatest incentive to ambition that any country in the world has to offer. So long as this country remains one in which the men call the boss by his first name, and when need arises the boss gets round in front and pulls with the men, all the agitators in the world can't do any lasting harm.

A CANNED CAMPAIGN.

There is to be no trouble in the coming presidential campaign because the opera house or town hall won't hold all the people who want to hear the candidate. The candidates even now are said to be preparing their extemporaneous bursts of eloquence, and confiding them paragraph by paragraph to the sympathetic bosom of the phonograph, and when the great day comes, all the disappointed souls who can't get into the auditorium can hear the words of the speech in the very voice of the speaker, rippling from the can in the talking machine, at a church or in the red tent.

Of course there are both drawbacks and advantages to this system of canned publicity. While the speaker's vocal pyrotechnics may be faithfully preserved, his physical gymnastics will be invisible, and undistracted, the mind of the listener may center more firmly upon the truth or falsity, the fairness or unfairness, of the plea itself. This will make for wiser, less impassioned voting. On the other hand, the owners of voice-recording machines may prefer to purchase the records and sit comfortably at home rather than be crowded in a public meeting. This, perchance, will swell the candidate's campaign fund. He may lose votes for thus hobnobbing with royalties, but, as has been frequently and truthfully observed, "We can't have everything."

As a matter of fact it might be a good thing if all the eloquence could be done away with in the coming campaigns—if the clear, cold facts of each candidate's platform could be made plain to the public, and the voters be left, unswayed by outward forces, to make their own conclusion as to what policies are best for the country.

Canned or uncanned, the political speech as a rule has little to recommend it. Probably in its preserved state it would do as little harm as in any.

PLOWING BY ELECTRICITY.

The newest thing in Italian agriculture is the electric plow. This is not a tractor using juice instead of gas, but a whole system quite different from the ones Americans are accustomed to see. The description, given by Mr. H. C. McLean, United States Trade Commissioner at Rome, sounds rather complicated, but it is said to cost only one-fourth as much per acre, wages, interest and amortization included, as the use of the gasoline tractor. This is due partly to the fact that gasoline is expensive in Italy, but electric power from waterfalls is cheap and available generally. The description runs:

"At one corner of the field to be ploughed a powerful electric capstan or winding apparatus is established from which wire cables are stretched entirely inclosing the field. At the two near corners these cables pass through pulleys which are securely anchored, while at the far corner they are connected with two movable anchor wagons.

"Between these two a duplex plow mounted on wheels is drawn backward and forward across the field by means of the cable, and each time a furrow is plowed the anchor-wagons move up a sufficient distance to bring the plow into position for the next operation.

"The plow is provided with an equal number of shares on each side of the wheels, facing each other, so that no turning is necessary; when one side is working the shares on the other side are lifted clear of the ground. A seat is provided for the operator."

This new plan is called the "Violati-Tescari system." For most of America, with its level fields and its high cost of electricity, gasoline tractors are far preferable, but for those mountain districts which resemble Italy in their slopes and cheap power, it may prove useful in the future after it has been somewhat developed and simplified.

Lady Astor, elected in vindication of woman's rights, was called down on her first day in parliament because she exercised the one eternal right of woman. She talked.

The war is over; the happy times are here again. A Parisian theater manager has challenged a dramatic critic to a duel.

The yule-log may be a reality again on many a hearth this coalless Christmas.

Maybe old man Midas wasn't so badly off, after all, when he had to eat his gold. If those times were anything like these, gold was cheaper than anything else in the market.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—

I was waiting in a room.

In the Grand Central Station

For a flyer from Chicago.

And hoping that my wife.

Would forget the remark.

I made at dinner.

Inquiring if it was the idea.

To maketh turkey last.

Until next Thanksgiving.

And I saw a tired mother.

With five little children.

Take the seat next to me.

And she got out a shoe box.

From a big bundle.

And there were slices of bread.

With butter and jelly.

And they all began to eat.

Except a little bit of a shaver.

In a blue gingham dress.

And little red socks.

And he was sociable.

And wanted me to help him.

And I like babies.

But I don't know what to do.

When they try to boss you.

And besides across the way.

Were two nifty looking girls.

And they were smiling.

And I was getting redder.

And wishing the train.

Would hurry up and pull in.

Because most of the jelly.

Was on my trouser legs.

And in five more minutes.

I knew he would reach my vest.

And I wouldn't care after that.

What happened to me.

Because it was a new vest.

With pretty silk stripes.

And just about that time.

The baby said: "Glab!"

Whatever that means.

And I looked down and saw.

A big smear of butter.

All over the vest.

And the girls laughed.

Loudly across the way.

And I acted like.

I thought it was funny.

And laughed like I might.

On the way to the guillotine.

And just then the caller.

Announced my train.

And looking like Chaplin.

After stopping a custard pie.

I withdrew from the room.

SCHOOL PUPILS CALL STRIKE

Because they were compelled to carry water from a point, which they assert is more than a half-mile distant, the pupils of the Allison school, a short distance back of Chester, "struck" Friday, according to word received Friday evening by Superintendent of Grant District schools A. D. Osborn of Newell. The pupils quit school, demanding that the board of education sink a well at the school.

Superintendent Osborn stated Saturday morning that the pupils at the school had made themselves liable to a fine by their action. He further announced that the board would not go to the expense of drilling a well at the school.

For some time the school has been securing drinking water from the Highfield farm, which is quite a distance from the school. The pupils have been compelled to carry this water and Friday when the roads became thawed and muddy, they announced their refusal to continue the practice further and quit school.

The Grant district board is preparing to re-open a spring, which is near the school, Supt. Osborn stated Saturday.

Miss Mabel Mathers of Chester is the instructor at the school.

Aches and Pains of Rheumatism Sometimes Almost Unbearable

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some victims of this disease suffer more in dry warm weather than in moist cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to give it a trial.

If a laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills—they don't gripe.

TO SET DATE FOR ELECTION

Chester Electors to Vote Jan. 1 On Bond Issue for New High School Building.

The Chester Board of Education at a meeting to be held next Monday evening, in the office of Superintendent of Schools E. E. Oldaker will set Thursday, January 1, as the date upon which the voters of the city will be asked to voice their approval or disapproval to the issuance of bonds to the amount of $75,000 to be used in the erection of a new high school building here.

Monday night's meeting of the board will be an adjourned session. A resolution, calling for this election has been prepared by Lawrence Baxter, clerk of the board, a copy of it having been placed in the hands of each member.

"There is but little question as to whether the voters of the city are in favor of better schools here," was the statement of one member of the board yesterday morning. "Everybody seems to realize that the city must have additional schools in order to maintain the high standard of efficiency which we have gained here."

"But, will the voters of the city approve of the proposed new high school? Some are of the opinion that the high school should be maintained in the present building and smaller one or two room buildings erected in those parts of the city needed them most. This, they assert, would relieve the crowded conditions that exist at the Central and Washington schools."

"The board has considered this matter from all viewpoints and believes that the best solution is the erection of a new high school building, one that will meet the needs of Chester for years to come. Then the Central building will be large enough to accommodate all pupils in other primary and grammar departments, relieving the congested conditions that exist in certain grades, the first, especially."

If the bond issue carries, steps will be taken immediately to purchase a site and employ an architect to draw plans for the proposed new structure. As these plans must be approved by the state, building operations could not be started before late in the spring.

Celebrated Birthday Anniversary.
George Arner, Jr., celebrated his birthday anniversary Friday evening by entertaining a party of his young friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Arner, of Sixth street and Carolina avenue. The hours were passed in indoor games and other pastimes. A six o'clock dinner was served, covers being laid for Christine Hunter, Morraine Providence, Freda McMillen, Roy Rice and Lucile McMillan.

Services at U. P. Church.
The regular Sunday services will be conducted at the First United Presbyterian church Sunday, although Rev. Paul J. Reynolds, the pastor, will be out of the city. The pulpit will be filled by a Pittsburgh minister at both morning and evening services. Sunday school and young peoples meeting will be held at the usual hours.

WILL EXPEND $332,000 ON STATE HIGHWAYS
Over $332,000 is to be spent by the West Virginia State Highway commission in road improvement during the coming year, according to an announcement which has just been made from Charleston. This is the state's share in certain road improvement projects which are being contemplated in a dozen counties.

The apportionment of the fund which totals approximately $325,000 is divided among the following counties:
Berkeley, $27,840; Cabell, $6,400; Harrison, $26,000; Kanawha, $48,640; Marion, $28,560; Mason, $27,840; Mercer, $30,720; Monongalia, $31,000; Ohio, $13,440; Randolph, $39,040; Taylor, $35,680; Wood, $32,000.

Road construction in West Virginia for the year 1919 has practically been abandoned, due to advent of winter. A large amount of such work was accomplished, however, during October and November, according to reports to the state road commission, which said the building season had been fairly satisfactory and that 1920 is expected to be the state's banner period of road construction.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS
Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eating of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

AWAITS WORD ON SALE OF 1920 THRIFT STAMPS

Postmaster W. B. Stewart has received no definite word from Washington as to whether the Thrift and War Savings Stamps, which have been sold throughout the country for the past two years, will be offered to the public as an investment during 1920.

It was generally believed that 1919 was the last year in which the government will use this means of providing funds with which to pay the war debt, but no instructions have been sent out. The postmaster, however, has been instructed to notify the postoffice department as to the amount of stamps he has on hand and also as to what amount will likely be required to meet the needs of the local office during the remainder of the present year. The department will notify him later as to what disposition will be made of the balance, the instructions state.

From this word, it is believed at the postoffice that 1919 will see the end of the sale of the adhesives. They have been on sale at the postoffice and at the First National bank.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

HAND CARVED
PICTURE MADE

William H. Green, of First and Grant streets, Newell, a carpenter at the Edwin M. Knowles China company, has just completed a hand carved picture which he has termed "A Symphony in Wood."

The picture, made entirely of wood, is 24 inches long and 28 inches high. It required a year in the making.

The main ground of the picture, including the cornucopia, is made of white pine. Two Corinthian columns at each side of the picture are made of cypress. The carved fruits and flowers are made from poplar wood.

The left hand column is entwined with blooming clematis, while the column on the right is entwined with Scotch bluebells which grow around the column at the top and out over the entablature. The cornucopia is shown as containing cherries, apples, pears and saffordillies. The latter named fruit grows in Florida about Palm Beach and also in the Bahama islands, where Mr. Green has visited. The flowers in the cornucopia are daisies, dahlias and cosmos. Jasmine which grows in far away Persia, is to be seen in the three leaves of the Shamrock.

The top piece, which is supported by the two columns, has two large bunches of grapes, two American Beauty roses, turned above the center part of the picture, six Calla lilies, one lone wild rose, a spray of forget-me-nots and the sweet magnolia blooms from the sunny southland.

The design is an allegorical piece of work, the cornucopia representing the horn of plenty, from which fruits and flowers issue.

Mr. Green has placed his hand carved picture on exhibition at the D. M. Ogilvie store in East Liverpool.

NEWELL CARS MADE
LOOP THRU DIAMOND

For the first time in nearly two months, Newell cars Saturday were making the loop through the Diamond instead of making the corner of Fourth and Market streets as their East Liverpool terminus.

The city engineer at East Liverpool Saturday issued an order opening Market street between Fourth and Fifth streets to all traffic. This street was completed by the contractors more than two weeks ago, but traffic over it was not permitted, a fortnight being allowed for the concrete to set.

There will be no further change in the routing of cars over the Newell line until next summer, when the city of East Liverpool plans the improvement of West Sixth street, west of the Diamond. This will necessitate Newell cars, which now run over the West Sixth street tracks, to be routed through the Diamond and over the old course which was followed some years ago.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF MARKETS

Optimism mixed with caution has been the market keynote of late. Critics admit their uncertainty as to the future, which may see the list turn either way, but feeling exists that when pronounced activity is resumed, it will push the market up grade. Further drastic decline is not expected until there comes a material decline in the price of commodities. The recent break "squeezed out" excessive values. Investment buying is a feature of the present trading, and suggests the abiding confidence of solid interests not only in the salability of stocks, but in the long-run business outlook. The market's persistent strength in the face of recent unfavorable developments, only partially offset by settlement of the coal strike, has been remarkable.

Crop money will soon be flowing back to the large centers. Opinion holds that call money will not be freely obtainable for speculative purposes, and that as a consequence of this and other factors, such as foreign exchange, depletion of the coal supplies, and the peace treaty, the position of speculative securities will remain in doubt.

Grain.

The volume of immediate receipts continues the vital factor in determining the trend of corn. While fairly large supplies have arrived on some occasions, breaking the market, a scarcity in the face of fairly active demand on other occasions has tended to lift quotations. The hog market has been another important influence. Still another was the coal strike. Trade has been very cautious. Farmers seem more willing to dispose of their corn than heretofore. The weather, turning unfavorable, tended to aggravate transportation difficulties. In spite of the foreign element in trade has influenced the market with export sales a strengthening influence, while the reported efforts of foreign buyers to re-sell their holdings has tended to depress quotations. Seaboard interests have bought and re-sold rye alternately. A much larger trade than recently has been witnessed. Masters have purchased barley in quantity. Exporters have asked for bids.

Live Stock.

With the year's heaviest supply of live hogs flooding the principal live stock center, prices of pork on the hoof have suffered sharp reductions. Lowest quotations in almost two years were recorded recently. As the packers have not had sufficient coal on hand to guarantee production, trade has ruled uncertain. This factor necessarily proved bullish, yet it did not have sufficient weight to counteract the rush of hogs to market. Cattle trade has been fairly active, choice stuff selling well.

Cotton.

Numerous factors have lent support to the cotton market. Among them were impending settlement of the coal manufacturers operate at maximum capacity wherever the supply of labor will permit, supplying an immediate outlet for all wools no win demand.

Metals.

Coal shortage and the fear of drastic curtailment in operations have dominated the steel industry. The situation might easily have become so acute as to have forced a virtual suspension, not only of the iron and steel industry, but of the money basic manufacturing industries dependent upon it. Following the government's compromise proposal of the early week, the shortage has seemed in a fair way of relief, although some time will be required to overcome it, even with all the miners diligently employed. Mills have refused business in any large quantity, thus accentuating the already insistent demand. The largest corporations adhere to the price schedule of last March. Pig iron prices have advanced steadily with consumers pressing for delivery.

Copper has been stronger and more active of late. Production has declined. A fair amount for export is reported, and domestic consumers are showing more interest than for some time past.

INDIANS LAND FIRST CONTEST

Furnival's Squad Wins Easily, 36-16, from Pyle's Giants—Next Game Tuesday.

George Furnival's Indians copied the first game in the Y. M. C. A. Senior league Friday night, defeating the Giants by a decisive score, 36 to 16.

The Indians were out in force and although their opponents put up a regular fight the Giants were unable to cope with their superior ability. The Giants were without the services of several of their regulars and on this account were greatly handicapped. Center Reed, on account of illness, was unable to take his accustomed position, while Forward Sam Grogdole was also on the absent list. Furnival, Buxton and Mantion were the big scorers for the winners, while Coleman and Salisbury were the only scorers for the Giants. Furnival and Buxton each tallied five times, while Mantion got four. The lineup and summary:

Indians.	Giants.
Furnival.	Coleman
Buxton.	Salisbury
Forwards.
Bromby.	Pyle
Horton.	Reynolds
Mayer.	Buckley
Guards.
Field goals—Furnival 5, Buxton 5, Bromby 1, Coleman 4, Mantion 1, Salisbury 3, Orr 2, Bloor 1.
Fouls—Coleman 2.

COLLEGE STARS WILL PLAY HERE

Bringing with him a galaxy of university (and independent) basketball stars, Manager J. Lapidus of Pittsburgh, who controls the bookings of the Dinwiddie club, will meet old friends here Monday night at the Y. M. C. A.

The Dinwiddies will go against the "Y" five in one of the stellar bookings of the season. The Pennsylvania aggregation is aware of the nature of the opposition here through a meeting a couple of years ago and consequently can be depended upon to bring along their full retinue of stars. The Dinwiddies hold a victory over the "Y" five, but their margin was a very small one, one too close for comfort and does not assume them a repetition of the performance here this season.

J. Lapidus, manager, says: "Our lineup will be picked from H. Levine, captain of this year's Pitt basketball team; Robinson, laughter, of this season's University of Pittsburgh football team and center on last year's basketball five; D. Mervis, Kelly and McLean."

The Dinwiddies open their season at Kittanning Saturday night, playing their second game at East Liverpool. The local quintet played its first out of town game Saturday night at East Palestine, but all players are confident of being in first class condition for the next week's engagement.

MOUNT MEETS OBERLIN FIRST

ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 13.—Mount Union College opens her intercollegiate basketball season when she stacks up against the fast Oberlin College team at Oberlin, Jan. 20. Oberlin will present practically the same team that beat the Mount last year, having lost only Howard, the big center, and in his stead they have Stellar, the big football tackle, who was with the A. E. F. last year. The press has reported that Oberlin has a team of championship caliber; so Mount will have a real test for her first game.

Because of the hard intercollegiate schedule Coach George O'Brien is arranging a few independent games before the regular season opens in order to get the varsity into running order. For this purpose he has scheduled a game with the fast Ambridge Tech ten at Abbridge, Pa., Dec. 20, and is also working on a schedule that will take the team along the Ohio valley during the Christmas vacation. This trip will probably include games with East Liverpool Y. M. C. A., Steubenville Y. M. C. A., Wheeling and Wellsburg Independents.

Akron University to be played at Mount Union Feb. 3, will have practically the same team that won the state championship last year, composed of such familiar names as Swager, Wentz and Haley.

The new Ohio teams on the schedule are Ohio University, Denison, Whittenburg, Marietta and Cincinnati, all leading rivals for the state championship last year.

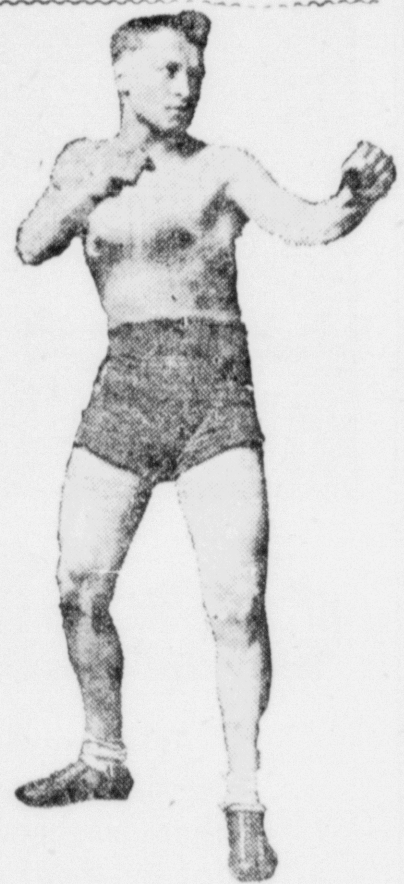

Feb. 27 is still open and Coach O'Brien is trying to arrange a home game. On Jan. 22, 23 and 24 O'Brien expects to take his tossers into Michigan. Favorable returns have already been received from Hillsdale College and Detroit University and a game with Michigan Aggies is pending. Mount has always been a good road team and she expects returns this year.

The schedule follows:
Jan. 10—Oberlin at Oberlin.
Jan. 17—Case at Cleveland.
aJn. 20—Wooster at Wooster.

THIS ODD LOOKING TEAM MAY FURNISH CUBS WITH HURLER

By N. E. BROWN

When Manager Fred Mitchell of the Chicago Cubs recently announced that he had signed a young fellow with a flowing beard and equally flowing locks for a tryout at the Cubs' camp next spring, the Chicago scribes exclaimed: "Where did you dig him up?"

It sounded like a joke at first, but, judging from reports from Michigan, where the pitcher attracted attention, he is no joke, even though he may fall short of the big league caliber.

The recruit is Paul Leslie Mooney, a member of the baseball team organized by members of the "House of David," a religious cult. The team is located in Benton Harbor, Mich. One tenet of the cult is that the members impair their chances of salvation if they cut off their whiskers or hair.

But this odd belief apparently doesn't affect their love for clean sport and their ability to pick up the fine points of baseball. The team played brilliant ball against some of the best semi-pro teams in the state. Mooney, as its main pitcher, was the star of the outfit. He won eighteen of the twenty-four games he pitched and everyone of his games was a few-hit affair. He allowed a total of only 166 hits for the twenty-four contests.

Mooney is built right physically for a big league career. He is husky and large boned. He is said to have a baffling "float" which operates much on the same plan as Eddie Cicotte's mysterious shine ball. Whether it is as effective remains to be seen, of course. Mooney also has a very deceptive curve.

Mooney hasn't confined his activities to baseball, either. It is said that he packs a good kick in each hand and has gained considerable reputation as an amateur boxer—jokesmiths please take notice save the ambulance drivers some exertion.

The picture of Mooney and the team, dug up since Mooney broke into the limelight, has the appearance of pictures of the ball players back in the '80's. Then whiskers were not uncommon. Some of the early stars of the game wore hirsute adornments as flowing as those worn by Mooney and his brethren.

While Mooney—if he does go through with his chance to deliver in the majors—will be subject to some wit by scribes and jesters, the average fan will be pulling for him to come through with a bang, whiskers and all.

NAVY ROOTERS LAUDING DOBIE

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—When Gil-mour Dobie came out of the far Northwest to take charge of the pigskin chasers at Annapolis in 1917 football followers in this neck of the woods were more than interested.

Dobie made his reputation as a coach at the University of Washington, where for thirteen successive years his football teams went through as many seasons without a defeat, and seldom played in a contest where the score resulted in a tie.

He came to the Naval Academy hailed as the "Wizard of the West," and he has made good with a lot of room to spare.

During his two years at Annapolis Dobie found time to develop some regular football players for the Navy. His teams pluggled along winning a majority of their games, but there was a lack of interest with the Army game cancelled. The Navy, however, managed to make a good showing.

This year Dobie and his proteges sawed wood and said little. The Navy mentor is the "Connie Mack" of football. He seldom makes predictions, and he doesn't fall for many interviews. But he does teach football to his players, as the Army discovered when Dobie's boys mopped up the boggy gridiron with them at the Polo Grounds.

Roger Bresnahan.

At forty years of age he is starting out to make his second name in sport, having lost his life's savings in trying to build up the Toledo ball club.

By N. E. BROWN.
Some men in athletics—as well as in other walks of life—deserve to be classed as stars in defeat as well as in victory. We'd stick Roger Bresnahan in the list of those who deserve the laurel wreath as they fall.

Bresnahan gave baseball his all for many years and managed to save up a small fortune. Now this money has been swept away—in trying to help baseball—and he is starting out to lay up a new pile for a rainy day. And he's starting at forty years of age.

Bresnahan broke into baseball about twenty-three years ago as a member of the Lima club in the Ohio State league. In 1897 the Washington Nationals signed him—as a pitcher. Bresnahan didn't have enough stuff, though, so found himself with Minneapolis in the old Western league two years later.

Then he decided to try the other end of the battery game and became a catcher. In his first season behind the plate he drew the attention of the big leagues and was signed by Chicago in 1906. He jumped to the Baltimore American league club and then in 1902 he followed McGraw's footsteps and jumped to the Giants.

In Gotham Bresnahan soon showed himself to be one of the greatest catchers in the game. In 1909 he broke into the managerial end as pilot of the Cards. He held that job until replaced by Miller Huggins in 1913, and then was signed to boss the Cubs. He failed to shine, though, in Cubville.

The next fans heard of him he had decided to try to bring baseball out of the rut at Toledo, O. He put all his coin into the club and used his own personal acquaintance with big men and his fame as a player to try to put across a popular and winning club in the town. But all his efforts failed and it is said he lost every penny in the venture.

FRENCH CHAMP IN VAUDEVILLE

Carpentier Won't Fight For at Least 10 Months—Defeat by Dempsey Would Kill Money Making Ability In Europe.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, will not be ready to enter the ring again for at least ten months, according to an announcement made here today by Nate Lewis of Chicago, famous fight promoter, who is here representing Jack Kearns, the manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world.

"Carpentier refuses to consider a fight in the United States and anyhow he will not be ready to fight again for at least ten months," said Lewis. "He has signed a vaudeville contract to appear in France and England for which he will receive 40,000 pounds (about $148,000 at the present rate of exchange). This will tie him up until July.

"Carpentier has definitely refused Dominick Tortorich's offer of 21,000 pounds for a fight with Dempsey in New Orleans on March 17.

"I have sent a man to Paris to investigate the report that a French syndicate is being formed to offer $200,000 for a Carpentier-Dempsey fight at Pershing stadium in March. If the agent's report is favorable, I shall go to Paris myself.

"It is generally understood that Carpentier favors fighting in England, but it is my personal opinion that he may never enter the ring again. At any rate he will not jeopardize his money-making ability as heavyweight champion of Europe within the next ten months by fighting.

"C. B. Cochran, the English promoter, is reported to be ready to offer Dempsey 35,000 pounds if he will fight here and it is considered likely that he will raise the offer to meet Dempsey's demand for $200,000 to fight outside the United States."

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Akron—Jack Wolfe of Cleveland outpointed Joe Burman of Chicago in 12 rounds.

Binghamton—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, outfought Mike McTighe in ten rounds.

Should Be Quarantined.

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

SPORTING GOSSIP

When the president of the American league names his umpires for next season, a substitute will have to be found for William H. (Bill) Dineen, world championship pitcher with the Red Sox of almost 20 years ago and for the last ten years an arbiter of note.

Dineen has turned in his uniform for good, and from now on will do his fighting with wolves of Wall street instead of the muggles of the ball field. Dineen has just opened offices in Broad street. Dineen was initiated a few days ago by his brother workers in the financial district and said the experience shaded his most harrowing days on the ball field.

"Banai! Molican kick ball contest." Out across the Pacific the little yellow men of the mikado's land are rooting for the American sport. They have been doing all sorts of hard things to their opponents at Vladivostok. They have beaten the Russians, twice their weight and size, got the Frenchmen so excited they could not play, and worked the jujitsu stunt on the Yankee soldiers when the latter started off with real horse play. According to William P. Larkin, overseas director of the Knights of Columbus, when a little yellow man grabs hold of a husky competitor on the gridiron and puts that jujitsu charm to work the play is all off. Honorable Mutsamara is always bound to come out "on top." And underneath him may be some 300 pounds of good Russian, Bolshevik or British weight.

The Knights have sent a complete football outfit to the Siberian troops for the coming spring months when the weather gets real sharp and there is a little snow. Mr. Larkin has been hearing about the victory of the Japanese teams through Harry McGarry, Knights of Columbus secretary in Siberia. On several occasions it has been made an unwritten law among the umpires that no jujitsu be perpetrated in a contest. But invariably the little brown men forget and in the rough and tumble go are compelled to invoke "the bring 'em to earth" hold. In the tug of war, baseball, marathons and other sports the allied troops are able to keep the Jap in place, but when it comes to football the little brown men just climb over their competitors. In other words, the larger they come the heavier they fall!

By Edith Barnard Delano. Directed by James Kirkwood

When he first saw her she was fighting like a little wild-cat. He loved her then and there for her "spunk," even though she was but an animated bundle of rags. Then he lost her, he thought, forever.

Years later he stepped through the doorway of his own palatial eastern home, and there, arrayed in the most fashionable creations of the Fifth avenue modistes he saw—

Now, don't be TOO sure. You may be wrong. It certainly is worth while to come and find out. Coming tonight, aren't you?

"BROKEN BLOSSOMS"

Suppose, today for the first time in the world, a rose bloomed in East Liverpool

—No one had ever seen a rose before today. Can you imagine how the beauties of this new wonder would be flashed around the world?

—Imagine if for the first time an airplane flew over East Liverpool—no one had ever heard of the possibility before, and you saw it for the first time today.

Something just as wonderful has happened in East Liverpool—do you know about it?

—Europe says America never will be a great nation until she develops beauty, art. Our stage plays, they say, go not farther than America; our books are read only by Americans; only one American art is supreme around the world.

—This art, this new budding rose that critics—literary, dramatic and of the arts—have so proclaimed, is "Broken Blossoms," in the presentation of which are welded together painting, photography, the dramatic stage and music.

Good News.

Many of the nervous, pale and debilitated are being helped to recover health and strength.
This is good news.

They are taking Pepton, which combines iron in the most agreeable, effective and up-to-date form, overcoming all the objections of older and other preparations of iron. It comes in chocolate-coated pills—does not injure the teeth, does not leave an inky or metallic flavor in the mouth, and does not cause constipation.

Pepton is a thoroughly scientific preparation, the ultimate result of careful study and research by one of the most successful of pharmaceutical chemists. It is a real, not a make-believe, iron tonic, especially beneficial in cases of pale, thin blood, weak, unstrung nerves, mental and physical exhaustion—makes the young more vigorous and the old less feeble. Pepton is sold by all druggists.

E. E. MAN ARRESTED ON CUTTING CHARGE

As the outgrowth of a quarrel in in Justice Powell's court. He is charged with cutting with intent to wound.

Both men were employed as track laborers by the Pennsylvania railroad.
The accused was not formerly ar-rained and efforts are being made to settle the matter out of court.
